EDITORIAL

Born from the imagination of its creator Sophie Hombert, Aglaé is the pioneering company of luminescent plants.

This unique concept sublimates the beauty of plants with a serum designed in our laboratories, which enables them to magically illuminate under blacklight.

Our team of stage designers and researchers will support you in the creation of your events, in order to provide unforgettable and immersive experiences.

In parallel of her event organization activity, Aglaé conducts substantive research on plant lighting without any electrical source.

Her ambition ? That luminescent plants are the new revolution of tomorrows renewable lighting !
